

Five Jewish Refugee Ships Head Toward Palestine; Arabs Strike

HAIFA, Palestine, Oct. 3 (AP)—A British source said tonight five more Jewish immigrant ships were believed headed for Palestine, where some 1,500,000 Arabs struck today in protest against partition.

The general strike, protesting a proposal to divide the Holy Land into Arab and Jewish states, paralyzed Arab parts of the country, but police stood guard with automatic weapons and the manifestation committee was peaceful.

On the other hand, the British source said, the strike was a group of correspondents in Haifa.

A naval informant said the British had information that three more Jewish refugee ships were en route to Palestine to defy the British blockade. "With two other problems," both believed being fitted now or already on the way.

He said the self-styled Jewish defense army, sponsor of most efforts to run Jews into Palestine over the 1500-a-month quota, had begun a late Summer "offensive" with the sending of the coastal vessels Patoucah and Northlands, reported variously to have brought between 4000 and 5000 Jews from Europe.

British naval parties boarded these ships in Palestine waters yesterday and brought them into Haifa. Transfer of the passengers to Cyprus detention camps began today.

Arab boys gathered at the dock gages and stoned a group of correspondents in automobiles and later a police car, but then were dispersed without difficulty.

Eric Bigio of the London Daily Mail suffered a superficial head wound from a light stick. He was in a car driven by Jay Saffron, newsreel cameraman of New York City.

The Paducah, renamed the Redemption, and the Northlands, renamed the Jewish State, were reported to have come from Black sea ports by way of the Dardanelles, carrying mostly Jews from Romania and Bulgaria.

Officials estimated the Northlands group at 2500, but a military source declared, "I wouldn't be surprised if there were 3500, the way they are packed."

"The Northlands is so packed we are unable to get into the hold, where there still are many sick people," he said. "We can't take some off, for that would keep them up all night and probably be worse than leaving them there."

Both ships, the source said, have refused additional supplies of food and water, although the Jewish agency already had put fresh milk and fruit aboard the Paducah and planned the same for the Northlands.

British Have No Alternative

LONDON, Oct. 3 (P)—Labor Minister George Isaacs warned today that workers who became "stupid and nasty" when directed to a job under Britain's new manpower regulations would be told "you will have this one, whether you like it or not."

He spoke at the opening of a clothing factory.

The control of engagement order, by which the government hopes to main fully the country's main export industries as well as vital domestic undertakings comes into force Monday.

Long Skirts 'Cuffed' in Seattle

Members of Pi Kappa Alpha, a student fraternity at the University of Washington, Seattle, stage a demonstration against the current trend for long skirts which the fair sex are now wearing. Bearing placards stating "We can't stand them any longer," the students chase their female attired brothers along the streets, paddling them and clipping off parts of the "excess skirts."

Holdout Jap Finally Learns War Is Ended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (P)—Lonely after the suicide of seven companions, a Japanese soldier who hid in the jungles of Guam for three years finally surrendered Wednesday—and was surprised to hear the war was over.

The Navy told the story today.

The soldier, Pvt. Shiroko Arimoto, father of seven children, gave himself up to American authorities on Guam.

Through an interpreter, Arimoto said he arrived at Guam with his regiment Nov. 10, 1943. When American troops invaded the island, his company and battalion commanders were killed, and with seven companions he fled into the jungle.

One after another, he said, his mates took their own lives. He himself tried three times to commit suicide but each time the thought of his children stopped him. Finally, he could bear his loneliness no longer and came out of hiding.

Arimoto said he had survived by eating coconuts and papaya. His clothes were in shreds. He guessed he was about 41 years old.

The Navy said Arimoto will shortly be repatriated to his wife and children in Japan.

Princess Juliana To Rule Netherlands; Wilhelmina to Rest

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 3 (P)—Wilhelmina, whose golden jubilee as Holland's queen is less than a year away, soon will relinquish temporarily her royal reins to her daughter, Princess Juliana for reasons of health, the Netherlands government announced today.

The 67-year-old queen, who has been reported suffering from fatigue plans to stay at her summer palace, Het Loo, for a rest, her secretary said.

A common moneque, issued after Premier L. J. M. Beel told newsmen of the queen's decision said Wilhelmina had requested it be made clear that there was no reason for alarm over her condition. The bulletin added:

"Nevertheless it is not surprising that the near burdens which weighed on her still are weighing on her and do not leave her health unimpaired."

Legation appointing Princess Juliana as regent will be introduced in the Netherlands at the two chambers of the Dutch parliament.

Princess Juliana is expected to pass the regency to her son, Prince Bernhard, in the near future.

The 35-year-old princess is married to Prince Bernhard, the late king's daughter.

WOMAN DIES IN FIRE

ARMY FOLLOWS SOVIET POLICY AT ARMS SHOW

U. S. Fails to Offer Russians Invitation to Ordnance Exhibition

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (P)—The Department of the Army said today that it didn't invite any Russians to see a new weapons demonstration because Russia doesn't let Americans see similar shows in the Soviet.

The same treatment was applied to Poles and Yugoslavs and for the first time the department added in an official statement on yesterday's ordnance show at the Aberdeen proving grounds in Maryland.

In other Washington developments bearing on Russia and national security:

1. The Rev. Edmund A. Walsh of Georgetown university, told a graduating class of the FBI's national academy that there "was no little doubt that Russia now has the formula for nuclear fission" and blueprints for the atomic bomb.

2. The State department's loyalty review board upheld the firing of seven employees the past June as security risks. Three others who were ordered fired at the same time were allowed to resign "without prejudice." This removed a bar to their possible employment by other branches of government.

3. Official records showed there were, as of the past May, more than six times as many Soviet citizens legally in the U. S. than there were Americans in Russia. The figures were 810 as against 122.

The number of Russians here came up in connection with the refusal of Moscow the past month to allow members of the Senate appropriations committee and five Government officials to enter Russia. Congress members have urged since then that the U. S. tighten down and allow no more Russians to enter than the Soviet does Americans.

Some 3000 persons witnessed the Aberdeen demonstration. It included some firing of guided missiles, a rocket-assisted armor piercing bomb and nylon-aluminum body armor which can stop a .45 caliber bullet.

The Russians were invited to the past year's similar show Army officials said today that at that time they entered approximately 10 persons who said they represented Tass, the Russian news agency, who attended the demonstration along with Soviet officials.

A State department official told a reporter that his department was consulted in advance by the Army this year and agreed the Russians should not be invited, because they do not invite Americans.

Butter Prices Drop At Nation's Markets

By The Associated Press

The price of butter declined a second day yesterday in the wholesale markets of several cities, and reductions in butter prices paid by retail shoppers were reported in many stores and dairies.

Grain prices showed little change after an erratic day of fluctuations on the Chicago board of trade, and livestock took trends both up and down in the nation's markets.

The price of butter tumbled 4 to 4 1/2 cents in the New York wholesale market today after a decline of 3 to 4 cents a pound yesterday.

A 4 1/2 cent decrease was reported in Philadelphia, and further declines were reported at Chicago where the price went 3 cents lower yesterday.

Longshoremen End Strike: Obey Federal Court Order

ALBANY N. Y., Oct. 3 (P)—Striking AFL longshoremen today obeyed a Federal court order, the first of its kind issued under the Taft-Hartley act, and returned to work after being up the port of Albany for ten days.

The National Labor Relations board requested the order, issued by Federal District Judge Stephen E. Ryan in New York City late yesterday. The government agency alleged the International Longshoremen's association and its affiliates were violating sections of the Taft-Hartley law prohibiting secondary boycotts.

The temporary restraining order, effective for five days, ordered the union to end the strike and directed it to appear in Syracuse Tuesday at 11 a. m. to show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

About 57 men reported for work at 1 p. m. to unload a 100,000-bushel grain cargo and to fill a European-bound ship with 300,000 bushels of grain. A spokesman for D. J. Roach, Inc., one of two companies supplying longshoremen at the port said additional workers would be called to work when other ships and barges dock.

Four ships, two to pick up grain for transport to Europe were reported en route from New York City to Albany.

In New York City last night, Joseph T. Ryan, I.L.A. president, said the union had at no time sanctioned any strike in Albany.

"We shall certainly obey every restraining order," he said adding, "We don't intend to disobey any provision of the Taft-Hartley law."

C. Nick Testa, business agent for Local 1294 of the I.L.A., said this morning that Ryan had instructed his union and Local 1643 to return to work.

Tennessee Politician Beaten in Election Dies in Auto Blast

ETOWAH, Tenn., Oct. 3 (P)—T. Burket Evans, a controversial political figure ousted from office in the famed 1946 McMinn county election battle was killed today in a mysterious automobile explosion.

As Evans stepped on the starter of his car in his garage a terrific explosion ripped off his right leg, mangled his left arm, injured his five-year-old grandson, Danny, and tore the front of the car to pieces.

"It looks like some new explosive more powerful than dynamite," said Sheriff Knox Henry. "We've got nothing to work on."

The 65-year-old veteran Democratic leader died in a hospital in nearby Athens within a few minutes. The boy was treated for lacerations and dismissed.

Earth Shock Shakes Mexico City Area

Republicans Charge Truman Broke Pledge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (P)—Senate Republicans unveiled today a preview of next year's political campaign that pictured President Truman as a "small man" and "New Dealer" who attempted to "undermine the Republican Congress" after publicly pledging his co-operation.

The attack on Mr. Truman and the Democratic party came in a report from the Republican policy committee of which Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is chairman.

Cuba Frees 545 Men Involved in Revolt Plot

HAVANA, Oct. 3 (P)—Special Judge Evelio Tasso today freed 545 men who were members of an expeditionary force formed to invade the Dominican Republic and depose President Rafael Trujillo.

Only 176 members of the group still were in detention. Three hundred seventy-six were released yesterday. Government officials had promised the release of all except the top leaders.

Ideal Fall Climate To Continue Here

Another day of perfect October weather gave Pottstown long hours of sunlight and temperatures ranging close to 70 degrees yesterday.

Just to make things perfect the beginning of a fine weekend is in store for everyone whether his interest is in baseball football riding in the country or just loafing, for the weatherman promises sunny skies and still warmer temperatures today.

Tomorrow, some cloudiness is expected with a few scattered showers likely tonight or tomorrow.

Slightly cooler weather will return briefly on Monday, but Tuesday and Wednesday will see another visitation of milder temperatures, with the mercury reading expected to average four to six degrees above normal.

FIRE PREVENTION —

Plans for Monday's event are in charge of Fire Chief Richard Lindauer, Robert Roth and Irvin Schetz assistant chiefs, and Daniel D. Drumheller, captain of the Pottstown Fire Police association, and also general chairman of the observance committee.

Possible telephone fire calls will be sent to the two police radio cars which will be in line, as will the car of Chief Lindauer. The borough's fire whistle also will be used.

The crusade against fire chasers was agreed upon at a meeting last night in borough hall of Burgess William A. Griffith, Chief of Police James A. Laughhead and representatives of the fire police group.

Griffith and Laughhead promised full co-operation with the fire police in enforcing laws of the State Motor Vehicle code applying to motorists who impede the arrival of fire apparatus during a fire or fire alarm.

Representing the fire police organization at the conference were Irvin Schetz, Rollin H. Klink, Paul B. Stonestreet and Elmer Biehl.

The inspection of public buildings will be made beginning Monday by borough and fire company officials and will continue through the week, until all are inspected.

Chiefs of two Pottstown fire companies said residents could make their biggest contribution to Fire Prevention Week by making sure that their chimneys were cleaned.

Victor Fegley, chief of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company, and Roger Roth, chief of the Good Will company agreed that blocked chimneys are the biggest cause of fires this time of year.

Roth added that care should be

Man Collapses, Injured In Fall on Street Here

Paul Babinsky, Pottstown RD 1, he collapsed at about 7 o'clock last night on South Hanover street near High street.

Answering a call that a man was lying on the pavement a half block from the firehouse, drivers of a Good Will ambulance rushed to the scene and took him to Pottstown hospital. He was treated at the dispensary there and then discharged.

Mae Wilhelm made the class response in which she thanked the hospital officials for their part in the commencement exercises.

Mr. Cadmus presented four awards to outstanding nurses. They were: Best all-around nurse, Mary Mauger; best surgical nurse, Rita Noll; best medical nurse, Doris Erb, and best obstetrical nurse, Miss Wilhelm.

Honorable mention in each of the four categories went to Mary Jane Noll and Mary Haring; Sara Roeller and Miss Wilhelm; Mary Jane Noll and Martha Rayner, and Miss Rayner and Mary Jane Noll.

Schulz announced that the Junior auxiliary had presented each of the graduates with a hypodermic set. The cash awards to the outstanding nurses were made by the Senior auxiliary.

The ceremonies were concluded with the Nightingale Pledge in which the graduates intoned in unison the oath of their profession.

Rabbi Emil Schorsch delivered the invocation and benediction.

In addition to the four prize winners, the other graduates were Elaine Atchison, Arlene Cressman, Mary Ficker, Ruth Punderwhite, Doris Huston, Marie Katch, Dorothy Kline, Helga Krause, June Noggle, Elizabeth Ryan and Carolyn Santman.

All but six of the fledgling nurses will remain with the Pottstown hospital, it was announced.

Those who will leave are Miss Atchison and Miss Ficker, who are going to the Mt. Sinai hospital, Philadelphia, Miss Mauger and Miss Noggle, who will work in out-of-town physicians' offices, Miss Rayner, who will work at a veterans' hospital, and Miss Santman, who will go to the Roxborough Memorial hospital.

It is believed that a land bridge joined England and Europe until the English channel was formed during the ice ages about 10,000 years ago.

POLICE COMMITTEE —

He might be rotated on the schedule at the present time the burgess pointed out.

Satterthwaite reported there are a number of violations of the one-way motor traffic regulations on Apple street west of Washington.

The committee recommended that a loading zone on the south side of King street, east of Charlotte, be extended by the removal of a new parking meter.

Chief Laughhead recommended that a stop sign be placed at Beech street and Rosedale drive protecting traffic on Beech street.

Laughhead also said traffic signals should be placed at Beech and Hanover streets and at the intersection of Third, State and Manatawny streets. Borough Manager Sears pointed out that Manatawny and Hanover streets are State highways and the State highway department would have to approve the signals.

Parking conditions at Franklin field during football games were discussed. Satterthwaite said the school board should open the hockey field lying north of the Junior High grounds. He declared that a large number of cars could be parked there.

A complaint from Stanley Chaplin, owner of the Star and Sidelby was received. They said the establishment of one-way traffic on the Reading concourse is hampering business at the garage and automobile salesrooms at the Shuler house. No action was taken by the committee.

Work, later abandoned was started on an English channel tunnel in 1882.

TAX INEQUITIES —

This year, Griffith continued the workers hope to cover much of the residential areas, but the total program of re-adjustment of over-rough assessments may take several years.

Griffith stressed the fact that the tax equalization committee is not an official group, but a body of volunteer workers who are qualified by their experience to assist the appointed tax assessors.

In his letter to the group, which was sent out the past week, Griffith said:

"I would appreciate it if you would give this matter serious thought in order that when this meeting is called we may all be prepared to discuss the necessary changes or adjustments with a definite knowledge of what should be first on our agenda.

"I want to commend you for the work you have already rendered, and I trust you will give this your serious thought in order that our meeting may be to the common good of our community."

He said there have been only "a few isolated cases of maladministration and probable miscarriages of justice, none of which were condoned and fostered by Gen. Lee."

In a memorandum which Eisenhower attached to the 12,000 word report however, the Army chief of staff noted that there had been some "errors." He said he was sending out orders to the new theater commander (General Lee is in this country awaiting retirement) to correct them.

Sow an act, and you reap a habit;
sow a habit, and you reap a character;
sow a character, and you reap a destiny.—G. D. Bowdman.

Churches Outpull Movies

A SURVEY of its 9000 employees revealed for General Aniline and Film corporation that 6080 of them attend church regularly every week. This was a better score than the movies made. Only 4113 of the 9000 workers said they went to the movies regularly each week.

On the basis of this study, the company decided that the "average" employee is a church-goer; that he has a hobby; saves a little out of his earnings; enjoys sports; plays a musical instrument; listens to the radio, and reads.

The study took in a wide variety of occupations, including executives, foremen, mechanics, truck drivers, office boys, salesmen, laborers, chemists, watchmen and stenographers.

Wonder what kind of score the employees of Pottstown industries would make. We have an idea it would be every bit as good as the score made by the General Aniline employees.

Once in church, it then becomes the minister's job to "sell" Christianity to the church-goers. Man's lack of religion can be decreed, but often the reason has been lack of a good "selling" job on the part of ministers.

Getting Christianity across to people is not the easiest job, with all the diversions of life today. To know that more persons go to church regularly than go to the movies should be heartening to ministers.

Back in 1917, the Rev. William May, then pastor of Siloam Methodist church, at Booths Corner, said: "If this church could afford it, I should like to have a motion picture machine installed. On Sunday evenings I would present religious views; on Saturday evenings, I should give the people views on educational subjects."

Reverend May was 30 years ahead of his time. Churches are beginning to make use of motion pictures. They are beginning to "show" the people, along with "telling" them.

A Moral Obligation

NEWSPAPERS serve many functions in a community, but possibly their greatest service under a heritage of a free press is as an articulate moral force. A newspaper's power for good has been built on the confidence of the American people in a press free to report and to comment on all phases of the American scene.

Without communication, it is possible for selfish men to warp programs to their own purposes and prestige. Without an exchange of ideas, people can be led blindly to follow an established course which may do them great harm. Without criticism, leaders have no check on their opinions and no true gauge of their ability.

In an increasingly complex world, an individual personally cannot keep abreast of all events which may affect him. With the passing of the famed town forum, such as those of New England, his voice is heard and his opinions are felt in a narrowing sphere.

This function has been assumed by the American press. From its inception the newspaper has raised its voice when changes were needed, when reforms were called for, when a definite course of action was required.

To its readers it gives the privilege of its forum columns, where any man or woman may discuss his pet peeve or major interest to a far greater audience than he could find in his own neighborhood. From its readers it receives, gratefully, tips which trained men track down, without bias, to write a story for the information and concerted action of all men.

The American press can only reaffirm its traditional pledge of continuance to act as a moral force during the celebration of National Newspaper week. Without this function, it would be no better than the boot lacking it has become today in many foreign lands.

Wages and Prices

DAVID LAWRENCE calls attention to Department of Commerce figures showing that—

In the coal industry 97 percent of total incomes goes to pay wages; in textile industry, 91 percent; in machinery and other metal products, 89 percent; in water transportation, 89 percent; in construction and furniture, 88 percent; in communications, 80 percent.

And yet there are certain politico-economic and also political demagogues, who proclaim that wages can be raised without raising prices.

Wal, I see by the papers where wheat continues to rise in price. Soon a sandwich will consist of a slice of bread between two slabs of meat.

An item says movies soon may be transmitted by telephone. Come Sunday afternoon, and the small fry will keep all the lines tied up with the latest episode of their favorite weekly serial!

Resents Coal Region Slur

To the Editor: In answer to Last Word ("Time for Complainers to Leave," Readers Say, Oct. 1), it is suckers like you who are willing to pay twice the price a house is worth that keep prices up. I'm from the coal regions 'too, but I've been more fortunate than T. J. Boone in finding a "hole in the wall" in which to live. I have to pay an exorbitant price for it, however, and get heated in the Winter only when the furnace fails and I'm in the dark. There were many days when we had no heat at all.

It is a well-known fact that coal region people are friendly. I've had Pottstown people who visited the coal regions tell me that. Take a trip through there sometime, and I'll wager you will come back here with a different attitude.

Pottstown people are too "snooty" and smug when it comes to building houses. Pottstown will never expand if it maintains their selfish attitude.

Give Animals Love

To the Editor: October 4 is World Day for Animals. In these times of food shortages we needn't go out and buy our pets a Grade A steak but we can give them what they will appreciate more—our love and understanding.

Let us also think of our wild creatures in field, wood and stream and wish them happiness in their native haunts. We could send along a kind thought to the wonderful organizations which are helping to alleviate the pain and suffering of our animal friends.

Let us all pray for the day when no animal will ever again have to suffer under the vivisector's knife.

Trick in Enlistments

To the Editor: The Army brass and ex-brass are publicly bewailing the recent sharp decrease in the size of the Army. What else did they expect? That same brass raised the enlistment standards to the point where half of the volunteers are now being rejected as "unfit." If they are really worried about building up the Army, why don't they change the standards back to what they were a year ago?

Could this be a deliberate propaganda campaign to fool the people into accepting permanent military conscription?

YOU ARE LACKING IN THE POWER

TO SOFTEN AND SWEETEN HUMAN RELATIONSHIPS BY THE KINDLY USE OF GOOD HUMOR WHEN YOU: Do not realize that real humor in life is good for you, physically, morally and mentally.

Are a raving fanatic in the cause of reform.

Cannot laugh at yourself but are dull, humorless and glum.

Take yourself quite seriously.

Are indifferent, indolent on the one hand or cynical and hard on the other.

Lacking in kindness, charity, good temper and patient forbearance.

Do not have that gift of laughter which enables you to brighten dark places with joy and hope.

Cater to men's baser instincts in your effort to create entertainment.

Lacking in that joyousness and cheerfulness that helps to redeem life from strain and tension.

Wanting in active sympathy for the sad and depressed.

Not alive to the sense of your kinship with your heavenly Father.

Not inspired with good thoughts and high imagings that your life may be redeemed from smallness and care.

YOU ARE BRIGHTENING LIFE

BRINGING GOOD CHEER TO YOUR FELLOWMEN WHEN YOU:

Possess the power to make men happy, brighten and cheer their hearts.

Realize that heaviness in the heart maketh it stoop, but a good word maketh it glad.

Have the saving grace to see a good joke.

Having won happiness in your own heart can pass it on to other folk.

Have the desire to shape contentedly your life after the pattern of Christ.

Are possessed with the qualities of tolerance, loving kindness and the desire to understand.

Have gaiety of heart and serenity of temper.

Have a quiet mind which is stayed upon Him.

Can lighten disappointments and minor frustrations.

Can see triumph over small discomforts and annoyances.

As the creator of laughter can keep your product clean.

Can use your wit and humor without bitterness or spitefulness.

WASHINGTON

Capitol Solons Failed
To Size Up Food Problem

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Question from W. W. of Columbus, O.: "Why the delay about doing something on the European aid problem at Washington? I don't know yet whether I favor it, but the muddling around in your town makes me suspicious. If they operate it as slowly and ineffectively as they have studied and talked about it, the Good Lord help Europe!"

Answer: Frankly, I don't believe that the men at Washington realize the magnitude of the problem and the bread-and-butter sacrifices it would require from us. That applies to both Democrats and Republicans, for some of the opposition were enthusiastic originally about the anti-Moscow crusade.

FACTIONS: There are two factions advising the President on this question. His hesitancy in choosing between them accounts for the delay you mention.

Secretary Marshall's diplomatic and military background leads him to want to go all-out without waiting. Thinking that no time should be lost, he believes that there ought to be a special session to vote the money and help to set up an agency for European restoration.

Neither the President nor the Republicans yearn for an extraordinary session of Congress. It usually causes political trouble for everybody.

WHERE: More cautious advisers are represented by Secretaries Snyder and Anderson, who supervise finance and food, respectively.

It is not that they are unsympathetic to the so-called Marshall Plan. But they ask, conscientiously, where the money and food are coming from, especially in view of excessively high taxes and prices over here.

CHOICE: The Harriman Committee of eighteen business men, who made a study of our resources, have been the most realistic thus far. They told President Truman plainly that we cannot meet Europe's stated needs—stated by the 16-nation conference at Paris—without suffering. We cannot eat our bread and ship it, too.

If we adopt the aid program, we cannot expect to avoid greater shortages, some of them severe, and far higher prices, in food particularly. The formula of "voluntary rationing" just will not work.

For a President seeking reelection, that is a hard choice. Yet it is difficult to understand why he and his more cautious aides did not figure out the equation from the start.

GOOD: "Did Senator Taft pick up any convention delegates on his recent trip," asks J. P. B. of Charlotte, N. C.

Answer: I don't think so. He now says that he did not expect to rake any hay in western, enemy pastures. But he did do a good job of explaining what the Taft-Hartley Law means, as against what its worst enemies say it means.

I don't think that many of these early-bird flights do a candidate much good, except to make him better known. The public, as well as the pro politicians, won't make up their minds for many months.

This is especially true of national, state and municipal bosses on the Republican side, for they want a winner after their 16 year exile.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ALBERT L. 30, is teacher of a class of boys in Sunday school.

We have about 12 names on the roll, I announced, but only 6 or 8 show up on Sunday morning.

"The boys are quarrelsome and waste half my time keeping them from fighting. They are sixth graders in grammar school, and should be able to prepare their lessons, but they won't."

"I can't rely on their studying, and in the 30 minutes I have them on Sunday morning, I can't do much."

Dr. Crane, I tell them they ought to act like gentlemen and study their Sunday school lesson for their own spiritual well being, but it does no good. What do you advise?"

There are three basic problems today in religious education. The first involves getting children to come to Sunday school, if only for the one visit.

Problem No. 2 consists of making them enjoy their first visit so they wish to come back for more.

Problem No. 3 consists of stimulating more study and preparation of the Sunday school lessons, including greater parent-child co-operation.

All right, how can we get more children to come forth at 9:30 on Sunday morning? Not by talking to them regarding their "spiritual well-being."

Instead, we must employ sales appeals that they understand.

A basic principle in all human motivation consists of placing appeals in front of our customers to which they can respond easily.

Christ said, "Cast not your pearls before swine lest they trample them under the feet and turn again and rend you."

Every advertising agency in America should have that framed and hung in the president's office as a motto. And every manager or leader of people should know exactly what that statement means.

First of all, swine certainly does not mean good words which sixth graders do not readily understand. We do not react to intangible stimuli. "Spiritual well-being" is Greek to sixth graders.

Too many clergymen are still falling far short of their goal not because they haven't intelligence and oratorical skill, but because they continue to use long words and vague generalities.

Children like rewards, whether of Bibles, gold stars, cookies or lollipops. Motivate them by appeals which have some meaning.

When youngsters reach Sunday school and are asked some such question as, "Who killed Goliath?" probably half of them don't know. Nor can they even attempt an answer, since they haven't studied the lesson.

But if you offer each youngster a "good sheet of multiple choice" statements, such as "Goliath was killed by Solomon . . . Sampson . . . David . . . Eliphaz" then the child is immediately tempted to take a chance.

If you readers who are interested in Sunday school education will send me a 3 cent stamped envelope, plus a dime, I shall be glad to mail you a copy of my bulletin on "The New Psychology of Religious Education." Use it at your teachers' meeting to help pep up the Sunday school's good work.

GENIE WITH THE LIGHT TOUCH

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3.—Following a near collapse in her home, medicos ordered Susan Hayward to take a complete rest for at least three months. She'll loll at the Grand Canyon . . . Wallace Beery, tourist-trekking to Europe, writes that he's optioned a 100-acre wooded estate in Bavaria for hunting purposes; the district abounds in wild boars . . . Anne Jeffreys has ultimatumed her estranged husband, Army Captain Robert Serena; unless he agrees to a friendly divorce within the next two months, she'll file for a less friendly one after the first of the year.

Ida Lupino, breaking with Collier Young, returned all of his gifts to her except one—a toy French poodle . . . Time out for Jane Powell, injured when she fell while doing a dance routine for her current film, "Luxury Liner" . . . Jack Holt and his boy Tim will co-star in father and son roles in RKO's "Rawhide" . . . Dorothy Lamour, booked for only one picture next year, is telling pals that she "plans to have a second baby" . . . Director Howard Hawks and his estranged missus are talking reconciliation.

Argentina, out to corner the South American film business, is bidding heavily for Hollywood stars; propositioned to date have been Joel McCrea, Merle Oberon, Brian Aherne and Robert Mitchum, all of whom have turned the offers down . . . 20th Century-Fox bosses want Linda Darnell to wear that blonde hair permanently . . . Looks like quick divorce for Faith Domergue and bandleader Ted Stauffer, who finally have agreed on a property settlement.

PREVIEW NIGHTS
PIC OF THE WEEK: "Unconquered" (Gary Cooper-Paul-ette Goddard-Howard da Silva).

Cecil B. de Mille takes a page from American history and blows it up to gigantic size. See it by all means.

GOOD: "Desire Me" (Greer Garson-Robert Mitchum-Richard Hart). Outstanding performances offset a rather fuzzy plot.

SO-SO: "Dick Tracy Meets Gruesome" (Boris Karloff-Ralph Byrd-Anne Gwyne). Shiver fuel for chiller-diller fans.

"Bury Me Dead" (June Lockhart-Cathy O'Donnell-Hugh Beaumont). Murder mystery with a novel idea but lackadaisical execution.

OFF THE BEATEN PATH: "My Father's House." A made-in-Palestine drama, full of crudities, but powerful in its sincerity.

BEST PERFORMANCE: Greer Garson in "Desire Me."

Time Magazine reported the other day that Rita Hayworth, on her return from Europe, spoke kind and charitable words about her estranged spouse, Orson Welles. What seemed to impress the magazine's editors most was her statement that "Orson is really just like anyone else." Kind? Well, I'm afraid that Time's editors are being naive. A man with Orson's gigantic ego is quite apt to regard Rita's statement as the prime insult.

I was amazed by Hedy Lamarr's public statement following the reconciliation of her recent boyfriend, Mark Stevens, and his wife. Unless she was misquoted, it seems that the fair Hedy is actually trying to take credit for bringing the estranged couple back together. She said:

"I told Mark I thought he and Mrs. Stevens should try to make a go of their marriage. I talked with Mrs. Stevens on the phone and she seems like a nice person." Well, that was good advice, no doubt about that—but I wonder why Hedy didn't try to sell it several weeks ago, before her romance with Mark made headlines that must have caused Mrs. Stevens many a heartache.

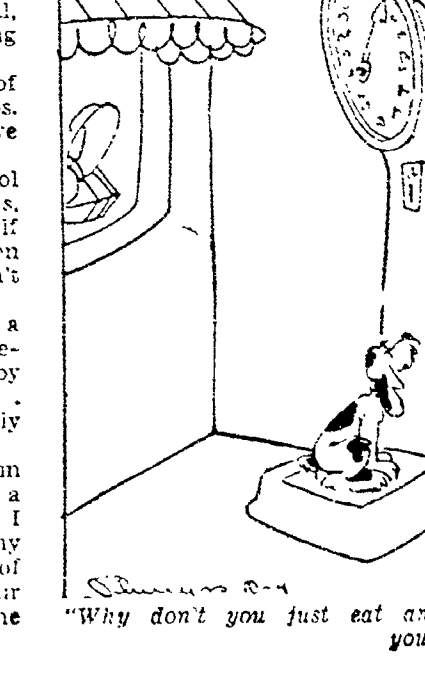

Under What Circumstances should a defender with the king and another trump lead the suit into the ace and another trump in the dummy which is at his right?

General Marshall went unrecognized the other night at "Boon Yesterday." Myrna Loy stole all the attention . . . Fred Clark, who makes his film bow in Mike Curtiz' thriller, "The Unsuspected," is a 23-year-old ex-infantry sergeant. Likely to be a work with the fans . . . Chicago hotel man Ernie Briedfield has his eye on actress Virginia Welles of the flappers . . . You'd think John L. Lewis were head of a gold-miners' union. He's reserved seven suites in one of San Francisco's swankiest hotels for his entourage at the AFL convention in October . . . Spivy reports she's been looking over a Hollywood location "hopes to open there next Summer" but doesn't intend to close her New York office.

Howard Hughes has worked out a new ending for "Mad Wednesday," the Harold Lloyd film which has had so many script difficulties . . . A burlesque strip-teaser will christen herself Barbara Seville. Top Sometimes Better

You hear fairly experienced players say they would rather lead the fourth-best of their partner's suit than the top of it, when against a trump contract, if they have four or more cards. They qualify that sometimes by saying that applies only when their partner is a good card-reader and can make deductions regarding the declarer's hand from such a number-counting lead. They should qualify it still further. Usually, if they have already indicated length by supporting their partner's bid of the suit, their high card of it is more informative because that tells him something he doesn't know.

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Dbl
3 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass

South required help to make that, but he got it—and how. It came on the first trick, when West led his fourth-best spade 3. The 8 was played from dummy and East had a tough guess. He did not dare play his 10 or 9, since South might have the J, so came in with the K. He simplified one of South's problems then by returning the club 10 to limit cross-ruffing. The J, Q, and K on that set up the 9 and eliminated any trump losers. South led to the club 9, then the heart 10 and sent it through, followed by the 4 to the J. The club A cleared trumps.

Now watch. The heart A was scored, the diamond 7 led to the J and A to drop the K, and the diamond 3 to the 10 put East in with the Q. East obviously disliked a diamond return, so laid down the spade A, which South ruffed, setting up the Q. On the diamond 9 the heart Q was discarded. The diamond 6 was ruffed and the spade Q got the final trick.

West could have simplified East's problems by leading his top spade, the J, to the first trick, which he should have done for two reasons. First, he had already shown his length, and second, North was marked with most of his side's strength by his double, and therefore was more likely than South to have a spade honor through which West could lead.

Your Week-End Question
Under what circumstances should a defender with the king and another trump lead the suit into the ace and another trump in the dummy which is at his right?

I told Mark I thought he and Mrs. Stevens should try to make a go of their marriage. I talked with Mrs. Stevens on the phone and she seems like a nice person." Well, that was good advice, no doubt about that—but I wonder why Hedy didn't try to sell it several weeks ago, before her romance with Mark made headlines that must have caused Mrs. Stevens many a heartache.

Woman Granted $125
For Damages to Car

A verdict of $125 in favor of Helen C. Shaner, Spring City, was directed by agreement in Chester county court at West Chester against Charles Frederick, East Coventry township.

The matter came into court on an appeal from the decision of a justice of the peace, which awarded the Spring City woman $136 for damages to her car as the result of a collision with a car owned by Frederick on Route 100, in South Pottstown, Sept. 25, 1946. When Frederick failed to appear at a hearing, Justice of the Peace Ralph W. Ralston, South Pottstown awarded the plaintiff the full amount of her claim. Frederick appealed the decision to court.

Reformed Church Group
To Observe Communion

World-wide Communion day will be observed in Brownback's Reformed and Evangelical church tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. Lloyd Sandt, pastor, in charge.

The Rev. Sandt will preach on the theme, "Is Church Attendance Worthwhile." Lay visitation members have aided the minister in trying to get all members to attend this service, as well as services that will follow during the Fall months.

Marking the beginning of Loyalty period, which runs from Oct. 8 to Dec. 28, each member will be given a booklet in which they will keep their attendance records with stamps.

A good-sized soap machine is capable of stamping out 100,000 cakes a day.

New Fire Air Horn
To Be Tested Today

A new Gamewell air horn, which has just been installed in Liberty firehouse, Spring City, will be tested this morning between 10 and 12 o'clock.

Several blasts will be sounded intermittently by the new fire signal while adjustments are being made to perfect the system. The new system was installed yesterday.

The air horn, similar in sound to that of the Humane Fire company, Royersford, supplants the old fire siren which has been in use here for the past 18 or 20 years. The works of the fire siren have been completely removed and the new mechanism has been installed in its place. It must be tested about every two hours would be required to adjust it properly. For that reason the signal will be sounded this morning.

Hospital Notes

Miss Anna Free, 164 Chestnut street, Spring City, has been admitted to Phoenixville hospital. Miss Free was taken suddenly ill at her place of employment, Spring City Knitting company, Thursday. Raymond Wilkinson, Royersford, was admitted to the hospital.

THANK YOU

Our "Thank You," above, is big type according to usual scales, but if size is indicative of sentiment it is totally inadequate.

For, with the exceptionally large number of people of Pottstown and vicinity who favored us with a personal visit Wednesday, Thursday and yesterday in our new business home at 17 N. Hanover Street, and their good wishes, we are tempted to feel expansive, to say the least.

It was our pleasure to greet many persons we have not seen for some time, others whom we serve periodically, our regular customers, and a number of entirely "new" faces. We were happy to see all of them as it revealed that they, too, were interested in the progress of our business.

This generous response served to remind us of a very important obligation we feel is that of any sound business . . . our responsibility to our customers.

The policy of our business has always considered this factor of prime importance. Hence, we feel it timely to again state that we shall strive constantly to serve the public in our best manner, selling honestly represented merchandise at legitimate profit, and at all times standing back of such merchandise. This we hope to do, courteously and efficiently.

Our slogan — "Our Integrity Is Your Guarantee" — is not merely a combination of words for advertising purposes; we mean to fulfill it completely.

Again, we say, "Thank You" and be assured of our deepest appreciation for your interest and best wishes.

Cohere Club Holds Fall Meeting At Hoffman Home

Members of the Cohere club met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hoffman, Schuylkill road, Hanover heights.

Mrs. Elwood Hipple, president, presided over the business meeting. Flowers and cards were sent to a member, Mrs. Laura Guen, who is ill.

Silent sisters exchanged gifts with the members celebrating their birthday, anniversaries this month. Pins-in-the-box were won by Mrs. Joseph Labele and Mrs. Frank Hill. The prizes were donated by Mrs. Hipple and Mrs. Labele.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 1 at the home of Mrs. Morris Buring, 1113 King street.

During the social hour games were played and refreshments served.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott and daughter Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Heck; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kulp and daughter, Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Biting; Mr. Joseph Labele, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cunniff and son, Harry; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Ellis, Mrs. Joyce Hill, Miss Grace Walters and Sandra and David Hipple.

New Members Welcomed At Meeting of JW League

Three new members were welcomed at a recent meeting in the synagogue at which time guests from Phoenixville also were present.

The members welcomed by Mrs. Sidney Pollock, membership chairman, are Mrs. Leon Fidler, Mrs. Philip Raden, and Mrs. Joseph Raden.

Mrs. Sol Wentraub, president, presided over the business meeting at which time it was announced that the needlework group under the direction of Mrs. Annie Gussman will meet on Monday, Oct. 13, at the home of Mrs. Albert Spivak, 1264 Maple street. Mrs. Jack Hoffman, civics chairman, requested volunteers for the Community Chest Drive. Mrs. Sol Berger announced that the rummage sale will be held Dec. 8, 9, and 10.

A recent visit to Pennhurst was made by the Rabbi Emil Schorsch, Mrs. Amelia Estreicher and Mrs. Phyllis Hoffman.

Mr. Marvin Linnak addressed the members on the Town Hall and asked them to participate in the meetings as they did last year.

Following the business meeting a recording of an actual broadcast was heard on the life of Emma Lazarus, Jewish poetess, who wrote the inscription on the statue of liberty.

Preceding this recording a very dramatic setting of the statue of Liberty was portrayed with Mrs. Martin Felt in the title role.

Following the meeting refreshments were served during the social hour.

Pretty and picturesque flower slides were shown by Mrs. C. C. Burdan at a meeting of the Garden Club yesterday in the home of Mrs. William Curtiss Douglassville.

Mrs. Burdan lectured as she presented the colored slides which consisted of the four seasons, beginning with Spring and ending with Winter. She showed lovely sunrise pictures and pictures of violets, daffodils, crocuses, tulips, peonies, geraniums, crab (pink and white), flowering cherry, juncos, japonica, peach blossoms, magnolia, star magnolia, wisteria, trumpet dogwood, lilacs, rhododendron, iris, columbine, roses, water lilies, phlox, zinnias and hawthorne holly.

A scene of a budding maple tree at Sunnysbrook was shown along with the fall coloring of many other varieties of trees. Then shown were winter scenes.

Mrs. Burdan also showed colored slides of the cypress gardens and coconut palms in Florida, taken by Mrs. Carson Potter. The roses, azaleas and peonies in Mrs. Potter's garden also were shown on the screen.

During the business meeting over which Mrs. Frank Hutt Sr. presided, it was decided to hold the Nov. 7 meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Felt near Longwood Gardens.

At that meeting each member was asked to bring a box lunch after which a visit to the Longwood Gardens will be made.

Mrs. E. B. Heindel is in charge of the home study course to be organized for the members. This course will aid them in arranging and judging flowers.

Highlights of a recent trip to Williamsburg, Va., North Carolina, and Tennessee were given by Mrs. John Kean. She spoke of the magnificent scenery in North Carolina. She saw many fields of peanuts, cotton and tobacco and crepe myrtle growing profusely, also holly, rhododendron and magnolia. At Winchester, Va., Mrs. Kean said she saw the orchardists harvesting apples on a large scale.

Mrs. Maurice Mosheim won first honors for her arrangement of vibrant, colorful foliage and Mrs. Samuel Harper won second honors for her arrangement of hardy fall asters.

First honors were won by Mrs. Potter for canned tomatoes and Mrs. Thomas Storm second prize for canned pears in the fruit exhibit.

Delicious refreshments were served by the members of the hospitality committee, with Mrs. John Leveille as chairman.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S Advice to the Lovelorn

Going-Away Attire for Bride

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am planning to be married this winter. Would you please tell me what shades are suitable for a wedding dress? I am having an informal wedding. Also, how many dresses will I need to take on my two-week honeymoon? Do I keep my gloves on during the ceremony? Will it be all right if I wear my wedding suit as a going-away outfit?

Stowe Marion B.

Dear Marion: I am having an informal wedding, there is no reason why you couldn't wear your wedding suit as a going-away outfit.

How many dresses you will need on your two-week honeymoon depends on the type of place where you expect to spend this period. If you are going to an expensive resort, you will naturally need many more changes and more formal clothes than you will require at an informal place. Not knowing your plans, I am afraid I can't answer this question any more definitely.

As to wearing gloves during your wedding ceremony, the leading authorities on etiquette consider this purely a matter of choice.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am 17 and have been going steady with a fellow of the same age for over a year. We get along very well and have been very faithful to each other. I haven't been out with any other fellows since we started going steady.

Sometimes, though, I feel as though I would like to go out with somebody else. I have met another boy I think I like, but how can I find out whether I do or not if I don't go out with him? Would it be definitely wrong for me to go out with him while I am going with someone else?

Pottstown "Confused"

Dear "Confused": Since you and this boy have been concentrating on each other exclusively for more than a year, it would hardly be fair for you to start going out with someone else and keep on going with the first boy without telling him you intended to do so. It would neither be fair nor quite honest, if you were letting your "steady" boy friend still believe he was the only young man in your life.

I have always thought, however, that it was a mistake for any girls and boys as young as you to devote yourselves exclusively to one person and give up all your other friends. It is rarely possible for teen-agers to know their own minds so definitely that they can pick out their permanent mates, as you are now finding out. My advice to you is to be perfectly frank with your boy friend and tell him you feel it would be a good thing for you both to see more of other people.

Dear Miss Fairfax: When I was 13 I began going with a boy of 17. We went together four years and then he went into the service. People wrote him a lot of gossip about me and he believed and we broke up.

After that, I met a very nice man and we were married. I told him about the other boy before I married him, but it didn't seem to matter then. We have a baby son. About three weeks ago this boy came home and I know I still love him. He is supposed to be married, too, but he keeps going up and down in front of my house, and after I see him I get so weak I cannot do anything. I love my husband, but in a different way. I would never want to hurt him or my son. Could you please give me some advice?

Pennsburg "Very Mixed up"

Dear "Very Mixed-Up": It seems to me you would be a very poor sport if you went back on your marriage at this point. The decision to marry this other man was entirely your own, and since he has evidently been a good husband to you, I think you would be unwise to break up this union now.

It is perfectly possible for you to put the other man out of your mind, turn your back on the past, and resolve to make a success of your marriage if you want to. You are only indulging yourself when you allow yourself to day-dream about your first love. There is nothing to prevent you from telling him, once and for all to stop parading in front of your home.

Incidentally, when people write and tell someone "a lot of gossip" about somebody else, I always wonder if there may not be some truth in their reports. Better be honest with yourself on this point and make up your mind to see that the future is better than the past.

Christmas to Come Earlier for Boy, 9, Stricken With Cancer

By ARTHUR W. EVERETT
DETROIT, Oct. 3 (P) — They plotted a gentle white he today to ease a dying boy through a premature last Christmas.

Nine-year-old Tommy Scott, suffering from incurable cancer, will have an early Christmas because his doctor said he may not live to see the real one.

The date hasn't been set but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Scott, said it will be sometime this month.

Dr. J. J. Angel described the husky, blond youngster as a "smiling and cheerful patient, who knows something is wrong, but doesn't realize how serious it is."

"There's nothing we can do but try to make him comfortable and prolong his life," the physician added.

He said the boy first came to his attention a year ago when his mother complained that he lost interest in school. She described him as a "normal boy, a little more ornery than most."

That "ornery streak," the doctor told her, was the result of his painful ailment.

Since then many a bitter mother's tear has been shed in silence as Mrs. Scott, wife of a factory worker, berated herself for disciplining the "ornery" boy.

Outside the window of the modest Scott home a tiny pine sways gently in the Autumn breeze, a symbol of the gaiety that will mask the pseudo Christmas pageantry.

Underneath the pine, the Scotts have decided, shall rest all the things a boy dreams of — erector sets, jigsaw puzzles, books, tops, toy automobiles and airplanes.

There will also be baseball bats and gloves and roller skates — the little white lies of a small boy's final Christmas.

Only Tommy is unaware that another Summertime of baseball and out-of-door sport may never arrive.

If the gloves and bats and roller skates weren't there, he might guess.

Colorado is known as the "Centennial State" because it entered the union 100 years after the Declaration of Independence.

Obituaries

ALLEN R. EVANS, 80, of 547 KING STREET, died at 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Pottstown hospital of a diabetic illness that began 20 years ago. He lost his eyesight about one year ago and his illness became critical the past Friday, when he was admitted to the hospital.

A native of Chester county, he was a son of Joseph and Mary (Freese) Evans. A stone mason by trade, he spent all his life in this section and for the past 20 years had lived with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fout, 547 King street.

He was a member of First Methodist church of Pottstown and of Nest 1393, Order of Owls.

He is survived by four daughters: Ethel, wife of Raymond Fout, 547 King street; Edna, wife of Walter Engle, Reading; Lorna, wife of Dick Grootenboer, Pottsville; and Mrs. Ruth B. Schultz, 563 King street.

Also surviving are a sister, Miss Minnie Mitchell, Philadelphia; two brothers, Milton and Howard, of Philadelphia; 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from a funeral home at 404 High street, under the direction of the Rev. J. J. Kline, N. Olewiler, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Funeral services for ADA Y. (MILLER) PENNYPACKER, widow of Albert Pennypacker, of POTTSTOWN RD 2, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. Officiating will be the Revs. J. J. Kline and E. M. Cooper. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Model Airplane Club Admits Four Members

Four new members, including a father and sons combination, were elected at Thursday night's meeting of the Pottstown Model Airplane club held at the Pratt Bicycle shop, 425 High street.

George Pearson, North Washington and Mervine streets, joined the club with his two sons, Gordon, 10, and Maxwell, 14. The fourth new member was Walter Wetherhold, 1143 Queen street.

John Erb, secretary-treasurer, said the club would welcome more boys in the 10-14 age group, as well as fathers and older boys. "Whatever type of model they're building," he said, "rubber or gas, it's all right with us."

Erb also announced dues of 25 cents a month would begin next Thursday, to defray expenses of the meetings planned by the club. He added that membership cards, designed by clubmember Levi Buchanan, would be ready in the near future.

The club will continue to hold its flying sessions at Daniel Boone homestead on Sunday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

Program Arranged For Monday Concert By Naomi Watson

Naomi Watson, Chicago-trained contralto, will include a group of Negro spirituals and five folk songs when she appears in a recital in the Trinity Reformed church, at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Recognized as one of the foremost contraltos in the Midwest, Miss Watson presented her second Town Hall recital in New York City the past Sept. 20.

The Rev. John B. Frantz, at whose church the young singer will present her program, first heard her while teaching at a religious camp the past Summer.

He said of Miss Watson's singing, "I became aware of the grasp of her glorious voice, a voice with a strangely moving quality which seems to spring from some deep spiritual resource."

In addition to the folk songs her program Monday evening will include "O Rest in the Lord," from Mendelssohn's "Elijah"; "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own," from the oratorio "St. Paul"; three Schubert lieder, and two songs by Win-ter Watts.

The Great Salt Lake in Utah, in the period following the Ice Age, was 1000 feet higher than it is now.

A Cub in Size . . . but a BEAR for Work!

and Now — INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER PRESENTS THE Farmall Cub!

- For all operations on farms of 40 wop acres or less—and truck gardens.
- For special operations on truck farms.
- For large farms that need an extra tractor.

That's the Farmall Cub, the first tractor in history that's built right and priced right for a great new group of tractor owners.

The Cub is the newest member of the famous FARMALL FAMILY. It brings the advantages of the FARMALL SYSTEM OF FARMING to the small, family farm.

It's a Cub in size, but "a BEAR for work." You get big Farmall quality and design, plus sealed-down, small tractor economy. And there is a full line of matched, quick-change, easy-to-control implements.

The smooth-running 4-cylinder engine develops approximately 9 1/4 h.p. on the belt. It uses considerably less than a gallon of gasoline an hour. There's a comfortable, roomy seat . . . ample crop clearance under the chassis . . . and "Culti-Vision" to give a clear, unobstructed view of your work.

Fit the Cub into your farming operations. We have one on hand, so you can climb in the seat and drive it. You'll find it handles as easily as your car.

4800 Watch Trojans Romp Over Bristol High, 40-0

Rath, Howard Score Twice In Overwhelming Victory

By ELMER PANOC
(Mercury Sports Editor)

Resembling the great Pottstown High team of one year ago, the 1947 Trojans treated some 4800 grid fans to a 40-0 victory over Bristol High last night on Franklin Field under the arc lights.

The power and ability of the Trojans was finally made public last night and Coach Heber T. Meyers was forced to give his second, third and fourth stringers a chance to play in order to keep the score down.

The Trojans struck four times on the ground and twice through the air in rolling up a total of six touchdowns. Melvin "Toot" Howard scored twice and George "Pud" Rath scored twice. Gerald Andes and Chubby Stouch added the other six-pointers.

Bristol outplayed throughout the entire ball game, reached the 50-yard line shortly after the opening kickoff, but did not penetrate into Trojan territory until late in the final period when Meyers inserted his third stringers into the fray.

Then it took a pass that covered some 35 yards to move the pigskin to the Trojan 40. When the visitors continued to march to the Pottstown 20, Meyers put his regulars back into the game and that was as far as Bristol got all night.

George "Pud" Rath, making his first start in a Pottstown High football game, was a stand-out on Franklin Field last night. He scored the Trojans' second touchdown on a pass from Johnny Snyder and scored the third six-pointer when he galloped 25 yards after taking an aerial from Bobby Mauger. His offensive blocking meant extra yardage for the Trojan backs and his offensive play was brilliant.

Bobby Mauger was another Trojan standout. The quarterback, a junior, handled the Trojans' "A" attack beautifully and was a big factor in the Pottstown pass defense. Howard, with his nice runs, was also prominent.

The Trojans were up against a veteran Bristol line, but the seven returning regulars were pushed aside by the locals like a bulldozer pushing a huge tree.

Everything the Trojans did wrong the past Friday night against Upper Merion was perfect last night, and the prospects of another successful football season in Pottstown became bright again.

Pottstown, after losing the ball on a fumble shortly after the opening kickoff, recovered a Bristol fumble on the Pottstown 46-yard line and started a long march toward pay dirt. Long gains by Mauger and Andes set up the first score which was made by Howard on a two-yard buck off tackle. John Snyder booted the extra point and the Trojans led, 7-0.

Shortly after, Snyder faked a field goal attempt and hit Rath with a beautiful pass on the two, and Rath stepped over. Snyder converted and it was 14-0. That's the way it was at the end of the quarter.

The second period was all Pottstown, and after Rath took Mauger's pass for a six-pointer, Howard did a brilliant job of scampering 55 yards for another score.

Still in the same period, Mauger returned a Bristol punt to the visitor's 20-yard stripe. Howard went for a first down to the 10 and Andes ate up the remainder 10 yards for another touchdown. Snyder again converted and at the half, the Trojans held a 33-0 advantage.

The Trojans recovered a Bristol fumble on the visitors 19 in the third period and drove for another six-pointer. A penalty nullified the score, but a few moments later, Stouch went over from the 12. Joe Axsmith converted and it was 40-0.

The Trojans, showing for the first time the power which was not seen in the Upper Merion contest, gained a net total of 286 yards rushing from scrimmage. Of those 266 yards, 180 of them were gained in the first half. The Trojans tried only four passes all night and two of them were completed for touchdowns. The other two were nullified by penalties.

Bristol, using a "T" formation and single wing, was only able to gain a net total of 64 yards by rushing against the Trojans. The visitors tried 12 forward passes and completed three for 70 yards. One was intercepted.

El Chico Meets Maria Assunta Tomorrow

The amateur grid championship of Pottstown will be decided tomorrow afternoon when the Maria Assunta AC and the El Chico AC football teams meet on the West Pottstown High school field at 2:15 o'clock.

Both teams have won once and lost once and grid fans in this area can be sure of seeing a good brand of football tomorrow. The El Chico AC squad is composed of mostly Pottstown and North Coventry High school gridgers while the Maria Assunta also has some former high school players.

However, has quite a few players who have never before played organized football. Maria Assunta won its opener from the 7th Ward Shamrocks by a 6-0 score but lost the past Sunday to Wildwood, N. J., by the same score. The El Chico bowed to a superior Bristol combine in its opener but took a 6-0 decision from Lancaster the past week.

TWO REGULARS OUT AS NORCO SEEKS 2D WIN

Paolantonio Changes Lineup; Riesh Switched To Fullback Post

With two regulars on the sidelines with injuries, North Coventry High school takes the gridiron this afternoon in quest of its second straight victory of the current campaign.

The Williams line the road for the first time this year and travel to Maple-Newton to battle the Marjorie-Newton High eleven. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock.

The North Coventry combine will be playing this contest without the services of their captain, Jim Batdorf, and Wilmer Swinehart Batdorf is the regular fullback and scored three touchdowns against Collegeville the past week. Swinehart is the starting right guard.

Coach Bul Paolantonio did a lot of extra work the past week and shifted the lineup around for today's contest. Ralph Riesh, the lad who usually plays left end, has been shifted to fullback and Ted Kepper will take the end position. Don Rothenberger is expected to fill the vacancy left by Swinehart.

The remainder of the starting lineup will be the same as the past week. Kreps will be at left tackle and Wayne Mourar will be the left guard. Joe Staworsky will be the center. Kochel is ready to start at right tackle and Evans will start at right end.

Jim Orandosh will call signals from quarterback and Johnny McElroy will be at left halfback. He also will captain the team today. Callahan will team with McElroy at right halfback.

THREE LOCAL BOYS WILL START FOR HILL SCHOOL TODAY

Coach Jack Riley's Blue and Grey gridgers of The Hill school left the lid on the 1947 football campaign this afternoon at 3 o'clock on Dell field.

The Hillmen take on Williamson Trade school in what shapes up to be a question mark as far as the outcome is concerned. The local prep school footballers have been working out for just over two weeks and it is difficult to judge a team on such a short time.

Riley, however, has eight men back from the past year's mediocre team and is expecting bigger things from this year's eleven. In the probable starting lineup for The Hill, the names of three Pottstown boys stand out.

Dick Harter, Joe Hahn and Gene Ackerman will be wearing the colors of this institution of learning when the whistle opens the day's festivities.

Harter will be stationed at the left end and spot with Hahn holding down the left tackle spot and Ackerman at the right end spot.

The remainder of the lineup finds Neilson Iselt, a veteran of Spring City High's team of a year ago teaming with Hahn at the tackle berths.

Bronson Rumsey, who will captain the wrestling team at The Hill this Winter, will start at left guard with Fred Pape at right guard. Fred Fellows will be at center.

Bob O'Connell, an all-state back from Utah, will do the signal-calling with Dick Thompson running from the fullback spot. At the halfbacks will be John Knudson and Fred Schoonmaker.

VILLANOVA TIES MIAMI
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3 (AP) — Villanova college and Miami university, each capitalizing on a break for a touchdown and extra point conversion fought to a 7-7 tie tonight in their intercollegiate battle before 26,500 at Shibe Park.

YANKS STILL FAVORED
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3 (AP) — Despite Brooklyn's second consecutive victory, the New York Yankees remain 1-2 favorites to win the World Series, betting commissioner James J. Connelley said today. He listed the Dodgers at 17 to 10.

Lou Perry, Villanova tackle, has added plenty of weight since he started his college grid career as a 17-year-old freshman in 1945. Perry weighed 215 pounds as a plebe. He's now 245.

Manager Bucky Harris was cornered and after announcing that Frank Shea will face the Dodgers tomorrow, he said, "I don't want to talk to the cop, neither did MacPhail. I just wanted them to cool off."

Bevens and Shea had their heads together in a locker and it was hard to tell at first glance which had pitched the game from their sad appearance.

OWLS TAKE ON FRANKLIN AC IN LOOP TILT

Stauffer Changes Owls' Lineup Slightly, Tries For Third Straight Win

Coach Howard I. J. Stauffer's Cabelsville Owls travel to Reading tomorrow afternoon to try for their third consecutive victory in the Greater Reading Football conference.

The Owls, tied for first place in the league standings, take on the Franklin AC of Reading who also has a record of two wins and no defeats in conference competition. Time of the kickoff is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock at the Reading fairgrounds.

Stauffer has once again shifted his lineup and the former Pottstown High mentor is hoping for better results than he received in the two games the Owls won.

Al Yerger will still be at his quarterback position and Jim Howard and Joe Klapotsky will be the halfbacks. Charley Wiley is scheduled for duty at fullback.

The line has been shifted around a little bit with George Dozier and Clarence Beasley posted at the ends. Sam Garber and Rudy Beasley will be the tackles and Ben Phillips and Ed Kupski will be the guards. George "Soup" Kass will be at center.

Ursinus Starts Season Under New Grid Coach

Kurt Wieneke makes his official debut as football coach at Ursinus college today when he takes his Bears to Drexel Stadium to meet Drexel in the season's opener.

Wieneke, who is well known in the Philadelphia area because of his championship teams at Phoenixville, hopes to avenge the 18-6 defeat handed the Bears the past season by Drexel. The former Phoenixville and Norristown mentor has an experienced squad back this Fall and will be trying to give Ursinus its first good team in many years.

His starting team will have Jack Khamo at left end and Seth Bates at right end. George Learner and Ron Landes are scheduled for tackle duty and Carl Drobek and Bill Miksch will be the guards. Miksch will be the captain today. At center, Wieneke will start Andy Bain.

In the Ursinus backfield, Ray Blydenburg will be the quarterback. The halfbacks will be George Saurman and Don Young and Eddie Miller will start at fullback.

Collegeville Drops 3-0 Hockey Tilt

Four high school hockey girls were injured in a 3 to 0 victory gained by Royersford over Collegeville on the Ford campus yesterday afternoon.

Molly Mallard tallied all three counters for the winners, one in the first half and two more in the second. Injured during the fray were Carmella Alexander, Ford left wing, who was struck on the right arm by a hockey stick; Jane Kirkman, Collegeville left half back, who overthrown her ankle, and two other Collegeville lassies were hurt, not seriously.

Falcons Ready for Battle With Pirates; Royersford Plays Host to Pennsburg

Twin-Borough high school gridgers will both have something on their hands in their second games of the season, on home soil this afternoon.

Coach Vince Bonkowski's Orange and Black Eagles, of RHS, will be at home to Pennsburg in an expected lively tussle at 2 p. m., on the Ford layout. Quarterback Ralph Ochs' lone touchdown gave the Falcons a hard-earned 6 to 0 triumph over Boyertown the past Saturday.

Starters for Royersford are expected to be: DiGiuseppe and Miller, ends; Cineiripino and Dreihelb, tackles; McCann and Cech, guards; Tros, center; Ochs, quarterback; John Fearheller and Gray, halfbacks, and Sherwood Schnell, fullback.

The Pirates of Spring City high will also be out for their second win this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock when the lads coached by Gene Groff will line-up against the strong West Pottstown scholastic eleven. The 52-7 verdict rolled up against Schwenkville a week ago gives the Spring City eleven an edge, but not in the minds of the defenders from West Pottstown.

The starting line-up of the Pirates is expected to be the same as the past Saturday: R. Davis and Dick McKissic, ends; Hurlock and Reinmuth, tackles; Noel and Peterman, guards; Art Stauffer, center; Don Stauffer, quarterback; Rentschler and Ludwick, halfbacks; Thorum, fullback.

The Falcons, who lost a 7-0 heart-breaker the past week to West Reading, will start the same line-up that took the field against the Cowboys. Coach Bill Goehne worked hard the past week brushing up the offensive and defensive play of West Pottstown and revealed last night that his team is all set to meet the Pirates.

Baro will start at left end and Al Stauffer will be at left tackle. John Schneider is scheduled to play at left guard and Sam DiGiulia will be at center. The right side of the line will have Smith at guard, Mike Gich at tackle and Mike Ferenz at end.

Ralph Basile will be at quarterback and Joe Dori and Joe Ciori will be the halfbacks. At fullback will be Steve Sabo.

Golden Cubs Down Phoenixville, 26-0

Coach Gene Kauler unleashed his Golden Cubs on Franklin Field yesterday, and they proceeded to run all over the gridiron in handing Memorial Junior High a 26-0 lacing before 500 fans.

The Cubs struck early in the first period, but a long drive was halted short of pay dirt. They came back in the same period to push a six-pointer across and then added another in the second quarter for a 13-0 lead at halftime.

After intermission, the Cubs played around in the third period and were stopped on the Phoenixville four yard line late in the period. They came right back to drive for another score just as the fourth period opened and added six more points before the final whistle blew.

Little Al Walton and Sam Green were the standouts on the North Franklin street gridiron yesterday afternoon. Walton set up nearly every touchdown with long runs and Green aided with large gains through the center of the Phoenixville line.

Green bucked over from the six-yard stripe in the first period after Walton had advanced the ball into scoring position with a 35-yard jaunt around his end. Green booted the extra point and the Cubs led, 7-0.

Walton and Earl Decker set up the second touchdown and Green climaxed the drive by going through the center for the last eight yards. The Cubs tried to pass for the point but failed.

Early in the third period, Jack Nash and Decker moved the ball to the Phoenixville four-yard line, but the visitors held and were forced to kick out of danger. The Cubs, however, struck again and this time Walton carried and tallied from the two-yard line. Another pass failed and the Cubs held a 19-0 lead.

Pottstown got possession of the ball late in the final period and started moving for another touchdown. Decker broke loose for a long gain and Green went through the middle, advancing the ball to the Phoenixville 29. Walton then took off around his end and reached pay dirt standing up. This time Green converted the point and the Cubs were out in front, 26-0.

The Pottstown offense was remarkable from start to finish, and the Cubs lost ground on only one play and that was only six yards. Paul Duttenhofer, senior quarterback, was the brain of the team and handled his job brilliantly. He handled the ball like an old master and worked the "T" perfectly.

The Cubs didn't have to take to the air once throughout the entire game while on offense. The only two aerials tried were for extra points, but every inch of ground gained by the Pottstown combine was on the ground.

Phoenixville, running from a single wing formation, gained shingly on end runs and off-tackle plays, but the visitors were never deep in Pottstown territory threatening to score.

The Pottstown line, outweighed nearly ten pounds per man, played brilliant defensive ball, constantly throwing opponent ball carriers for losses. The offensive play of the line was beyond words of praise and was the big factor in the Cubs' victory.

Bevens Hurls One-Hitter, But Yankees Go Down, 3-2

Lavagetto's Pinch-Double Wins for Brooklyn Dodgers In 9th Inning of 4th Game

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (AP) — Floyd (Bill) Bevens of the New York Yankees was two strikes away from a no-hit game and baseball immortality today when Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, veteran Brooklyn pinch-hitter, lashed a vicious double off the right field wall at Ebbets Field to knock across two runs and give the Brooklyn Dodgers a thrilling 3-2 victory in the fourth game of the World Series.

In probably the most dramatic finish in the 44-year history of the classic Lavagetto, hitting for Eddie Stanky, swung at Bevens's first pitch and missed. On the second he took a full cut and whaled the ball almost on a line to right as the crowd of 33,443 sent up a full-throated yell. Tommy Henrich, Yankees right-fielder made a desperate leap into the air, out the peller. He tumbled against the stands several feet from his glove.

For eight and two-third innings Bevens, a 29-year-old righthander from Salem, Ore., had throttled the Dodgers. Until he made his last fateful pitch he faced the prospect of being the first pitcher ever to hurl a no-hitter in a series game. As it was, he tied two other fingers, Claude Passeau and Ed Kouba, both of the Chicago Cubs, in heaving a one-hitter.

What made the defeat even more bitter for Bevens was the fact that he put both the tying and winning runs on base with free passes. In all, he issued a record-breaking total of 10 walks during the game, and the last two finally ruined him.

For the second straight game, Hugh Casey, portly Dodger relief pitcher, gained credit for the victory which deadlocked the play-off at two wins each. He threw exactly one pitch, with the bases full of Yankees and one out in the ninth inning. Henrich whacked it back at him, and Casey tossed to catcher Bruce Edwards to start a double play.

Lavagetto, reserve third-sacker, for the Dodgers, was given a wild welcome by his teammates as he trotted back across the diamond after watching Al Gionfriddo and Eddie Miksis, both pinch-runners, scoot across the plate far ahead of Henrich's throw-in. Five or six of them all tried to hug him at once, and when several wild-eyed Dodger fans tried to get in on the celebration the park police finally had to break it up and escort Cookie to the dugout.

Bevens, after watching Lavagetto's blast hit the wall, turned dejectedly and trudged off the field, a forlorn figure. He owned the distinction of having pitched more hitless innings than any man ever before in a World Series, but that was small recompense for the bauble which escaped his grasp. Red Ruffing of the Yanks had a no-hitter going for seven and two-third frames against the Cardinals in the first game of the '42 Series before the Cards scalped him.

It wasn't entirely Bevens' fault that the winning run crossed on Lavagetto's lap up. Miksis was on by virtue of some Yankee strategy. Pete Reiser, for whom the young fielder was running, had been sent intentionally after Gionfriddo had stolen second on the 3-1 count. Of course he might have passed Miksis anyway, and his record for the day indicated that he would have.

At that, Gionfriddo's dash came very near giving the Yankee picture his no-hitter right there. Yogi Berra's peg to Phil Rizzuto was true, a foot or two above the bag, and the Yank shortstop slapped the ball on the flying little Dodger as he slid in. If Umpire Babe Pinelli had called the play the other way the Yanks would have been leading three games to one tonight and Bevens wouldn't have been a broken-hearted hurler.

The American league champs chased Harry Taylor, Brooklyn's

Rizzuto Takes Dive for Second Base

Yankees shortstop Phil Rizzuto plunges headlong into second base for clean steal in second inning of fourth World Series game at Ebbets field yesterday afternoon. The Dodgers won in the ninth inning, 3-2, to even the series.

Dodgers Mob Cookie Lavagetto After Game-Winning Base Knock Dodger Hero

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 3 (AP)—Hal Gregg was explaining in a sad, professional sort of way what it was that Bill Bevens had.

"His curve ball breaks like a slider," he was saying as he shaved. "He keeps it outside and he keeps his fast ball inside, way inside."

Harry Taylor, who put he Dodgers in quite a spot in the first inning, lay face down on a bench. There was hardly anyone in the Dodger dressing room because the big celebration was going to come over in the Yankee rooms when Bevens came in with a no-hitter.

The loudspeaker said Cookie Lavagetto was going to bat for Eddie Stanky.

"Yeah, I guess that's all right," someone said.

Then a roar started, growing in volume, reaching an ear-splitting crescendo.

The words, "tying run . . . winning run" came out of it. The door burst open and players started running in, screaming and cheering.

Cookie Lavagetto came pushing and shoving along, a wide, intense smile on his face, his black hair falling down on his forehead.

Men threw their arms around him and kissed him. He couldn't say anything. All he could do was grin the widest and most complete of all grins.

He was hoisted on Branca's shoulders, with everyone helping. They bounced him up and down. Manager Burt Shotton kissed him.

"It was a high fast one, an I think it was over the plate, but I'm not sure," he said.

He managed to get to the telephone and call his wife in California. She gave birth to their first child the next week, a son, Harry Michael Lavagetto, Jr.

"I think it was the past Thursday or Friday he was born," he wasn't sure of that, either. He needed a shave, but there was no time for that. He was dragged into the showers amid more singing and shouting.

Twin-Boro Eleven Meets Clearfield

Twin-Boro AA gridders will face their hardest battle so far this season at Lake View park tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when they take on the strong Clearview Collegians, Philadelphia club.

The management explained this game tomorrow will be nothing like the past Sunday, when the Atlas AC went down to a 32-0 defeat. Arrangements for the game a week ago were made amid a misunderstanding, the Atlas club thinking it was to meet a team of its same weight class, while Twin Boros thought they were meeting a heavier club. The result Twin-Boros were out of the class of the visitors.

The Collegians, who trounced the local club 12 to 0 a year ago, have an average weight of 181 pounds and are certain to provide plenty of opposition.

Norco Lassies Beat Spring City by 2-1

North Coventry High's girls hockey team scored two goals in the first half and then played to a scoreless tie in the second half to defeat Spring City, 2-1, Thursday afternoon on the Norco field.

The Norco victory was the first over Spring City's lassies in the past seven years. The Spring City girls were masters over the Norco team and were hoping for their eighth straight conquest.

Norco took a 1-0 lead only to have Spring City tie it up midway through the first half. Jane Fulmer, a regular from the 1946 squad, then broke through the Spring City defense and scored the winning goal late in the first half.

Leaders' Council Plans Activities For Bethany Center

A leaders' council meeting was held at the Bethany center, Beech and Grant streets, Thursday night under the direction of William S. Carden, extension director of the YMCA to plan a complete week-day program for men and women and for all age groups, the major portion of which will be held in the center.

The group agreed to promote programs for both afternoons and evenings, with the following schedule set-up.

Monday—Adults' work and activities.

Tuesday—Youth programs.

Wednesday—The Cadet class for the younger children.

Thursday—Continuation of the evening motion pictures.

Friday—Junior Hi-Y Boys' club.

Activities will begin tomorrow morning, when grade school boys will hike to Runging Rocks park for a cogge roast. Daniel Strunk and Billy Carden will be the junior leaders, and the group will be led by Carden.

Women's Monday afternoon activities will be in charge of Mrs. Pauline Walker, and the men's program will be under the direction of Carden.

A Tuesday Art club will be headed by James Corum Jr., Mrs. Mathilde Carden and a group of young assistants. A Build-a-Drama club also is scheduled to meet on Tuesday.

Special requested programs will be held for men, Carden said last night, with as many popular games and sports as possible being held in the center.

Members of the Leaders' council which met last night included Mr. and Mrs. Carden, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrol Walker, Levi Burdian, Corum, Misses Mary Reed, Dorothy Gibson, Vivian Mobley and Edna Hale, and junior leaders Daniel Strunk and Billy Carden.

Carden stressed the functions of the entire program as seeking to provide physical recreation and relaxation for the community, as well as to fulfill such YMCA aims as spiritual development and cultural improvement.

The cultural part of the program will come later, Carden declared, adding that he hopes to establish periodic forums where well-known Negro leaders can meet the Pottstown community, lecture on topics of importance to the group, and discuss problems of the Negroes.

Kirk Named Chaplain Of Boys Hi-Y Group

Two more officers of the Pottstown Hi-Y club were elected at its meeting Thursday night in the YMCA building. They were Jack Kirk, chaplain, and John Baird, historian.

Applications for charter membership will close Oct. 30, Harold Bauer, president, announced, while registration fees and dues must be paid at next week's meeting.

Brandt Laufenburg, Jack Kirk and Jesse Mitchell reported on the Hi-Y Training camp held the past weekend at Chesapeake, Md.

Bauer urged boys interested in joining the club to contact James F. Baird, boys' work secretary at the YMCA.

Officers Installed At Junior High

At a colorful candlelight ceremony five officers of the student council of Pottstown Junior High school yesterday were installed in office.

The installation ceremony was highlighted by each officer lighting a candle symbolic of the responsibility of the post while repeating the oath of office.

Vernon H. W. Desenberg, principal, acted as master of ceremonies during the installation, which was followed by a talk by the Rev. Theodore L. Fischer, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran Church.

Basing his talk on the theme of maintaining high ideals in self-government the Rev. Fischer stressed the idea of co-operation and service to others.

Officers installed yesterday were Virginia Feroe, president, Nancy Werner, vice president, Harrie Burdian, treasurer, Mary Lou Singer, secretary, and William Glenney Jr., second vice president.

The Rev. Fischer was introduced by Miss Feroe, who made the arrangements for him to speak.

ALDERMAN APPOINTED

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff appointed today Harry I. Schwartz, of Reading, as alderman in the 16th ward of that city, succeeding Harry E. Castner, deceased.

Borough Briefs

Justice of the Peace Raymond G. Kelley, of the Second ward, will send a summons to Ronald Boone, of 419 Race street, Stowe, who is charged by Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawle, with reckless operation of an automobile on High street between Franklin and Evans streets, the past Monday morning at 8:15 o'clock.

Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, will send a summons to R. James Bacheiler, Spring City Rd. 1, who is charged by Special Officer Charles Stedler with failing to halt on an officer's signal at High and Penn streets Wednesday night at 8:40 o'clock.

Justice of the Peace Charles A. Andre, of the West Ward, will send a summons to Vincent Wegrzynowicz, of Atlas, Northumberland county, who is charged by Patrolman Joseph Thies with passing a red traffic signal at High and Hanover streets on Thursday night at 9:45 o'clock.

India Lifts Air Ban Against Dutch Planes

NEW DELHI, Oct. 3 (AP)—An official source said today India has decided "in principle" to lift her ban on Royal Netherlands airlines (KLM) planes. The ban on Dutch flights in India was imposed in August in sympathy with the cause of the Indonesian republic.

under Alfred Greenfield, conductor of the New York Oratorio society and chairman of the department of music of New York university, and under Dr. Lovel P. Bevedge, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's chapel, Columbia university.

140 Persons Attend Fall Round-Up of Cub Pack Scouts

Members of Emmanuel Lutheran church Cub Scout Pack 53 whooped it up for all they were worth Thursday night as they turned out in force for the "Fall Round-Up" and evening of Wild West fun celebrated in the recreation room of the church.

Six Dens took part in campfire stunts, cowboy tricks, and raised the roof as their sang western songs around a simulated campfire.

Altogether, there were 140 Cubs, parents, and friends present, and they found the most enjoyable feature of the evening a showing of old, silent cowboy pictures.

The boys supplied a running commentary and plenty of high-spirited dialogue for the old movies, noosing lustily the mustachioed villain tied the girl to the railroad tracks and cheering with complete abandon as the hero conquered over apparently super-human obstacles.

Among the quieter events was the reception into the Pack of five new boys—They are Dennis Aschmeider, David Smith, H. Elwood Roberts, Jack Smith and Edmund Sobresky.

Two Cubs received the Webelos rank highest in the Cub group of awards, and the only award that a Cub may transfer to his Boy Scout uniform.

The two boys were Billy Mohn and Ronald Mountain, who then were graduated into Scout Troop 18 of St. James Lutheran church by assistant scoutmaster Robert Jameson.

Other awards made by Cubmaster J. F. P. were: Lion Badge to Billy Mohn; the Lion Badge, Gold Arrow, and Service Star to Ronald Mountain; the Wolf Badge to Jack Derstine, and the Wolf Silver Arrow to Robert Steener.

The parent attendance award was won by Den 5, whose Den Mother is Mrs. William H. Morrell. Robert U. Botteman scout executive; Joseph Kahn, neighborhood commissioner; park chairman, A. W. Koppenhaver, and Merla Rambo, treasurer, all addressed the group of 140 briefly.

H. W. Van Dyke was program chairman for last night's celebration, and was assisted by William H. Morrell, Alfred B. Miles and Howard B. Horrocks.
